BIRDWATCHING EXPERIENCES

COME BIRDING WITH US

Birding enthusiasts, assemble! If you're ready to boost your life list or hone your photography skills, it's time to book a curated birding experience at Finfoot Lake Reserve.

Flittering, stalking and swooping through our 3500 hectare wilderness wonderland is some 312 indigenous species. Among them, everything from Violet-eared Waxbills, African hawk-eagles and Wahlberg's eagles to the ever-charismatic Secretary bird... and that's only just the start.

Since no 2 bird enthusiasts are the same, we can personalise each experience to your skill set, taking special requests into consideration. From beginners to experts, all levels are welcome.

MEET YOUR GUIDE

Known as our bird whisperer, or within the local community as 'Sarel from Finfoot'. Sarel van der Westhuizen has over 23 years of guiding experience under his belt, with over eight years at our reserve. He knows the environment intimately and his guided bird walks and tours are a highlight to any visit. Sarel also has a keen interest in photography and would love to help you refine your skills with the lens.
